Saint this Week: St. Blaise was martyred about 320 during the persecution of Licinius. He was the bishop of Sebaste in Armenia and is the only representative of the Armenian Church in the Roman liturgy. One of the popular legends is the story of the mother coming to St. Blaise to ask help for her son who was choking. The saint is now venerated as patron of those suffering from diseases of the throat and also of wool combers which is the reason why he is the patron saint of the city of Bradford. In many churches of the Latin rite two blessed candles are tied together in the form of St. Andrew's cross which is applied to the throat as the priest pronounces a special invocation to St. Blaise to protect the individual against diseases of the throat. We will continue this tradition after Holy Mass at St. Anne's by coming to the altar rails for the blessing and leaving church as usual via the side doors.
